Friday, June 26, 2020
11:00 am-1:00 pm PDT | 2:00 pm-4:00 pm EDT

Members of the Mars community,

I cordially invite you to participate in the next virtual meeting (VM9) of the Mars Exploration Program Analysis Group (MEPAG), scheduled this Friday, June 26th, 2020, at 2-4 p.m. EDT / 11 a.m. - 1 p.m. PDT. Our apologies again for the short notice and the change of date. We are certainly living in a fluid environment professionally and socially and appreciate your efforts to stay informed. The meeting will be recorded and the chat box comments captured for those of you who are unable to attend. Those items will be posted on <https://mepag.jpl.nasa.gov/meetings.cfm?expand=vm9>.

The agenda is included below. After a brief update on MEPAG activities and a status report on the Mars Exploration Program, Bruce Jakosky, chair of the Mars Architecture Strategy Working Group (MASWG), will present the group's preliminary findings and recommendations for your feedback and discussion. The MASWG presentation charts will be posted shortly before the meeting. Comments on the preliminary report can also be emailed to MASWG-Feedback@jpl.nasa.gov.

WebEx connection information is below. This meeting is open to all members of the Mars science community including our international colleagues, and I look forward to your participation.

Sincerely,

Dr. R. Aileen Yingst
MEPAG Chair
